

Here was an Image of a Covid-thing.

It was written WANTED! Like in Lucky Luke (Comic-Novels WITH the Daltons). I see that I could not know there is now a cartoon-series only with the Daltons. Well. I missed that out. It's not that computer technology makes producing a cartoon very easy.

There are rumours it is an eukaryot but people freaked out in the 1960ies and called it like the sun. Bloody eukaryots. It's 100nm tall (in comparison a blood cell is 1500nm. Yeah, so it's propably quite stupid). The eukaryot urgently needs medicine and won't be harmed (A large hotel complex with leisure activities is build on the moon just in these very weeks). And remember: it is just an eukaryot. We are stereokaryots and it can harm us only because of the recent lack of velcroes. But do not hit it with your shoes!
Do not attempt to hit it with your shoes!
